Full · ~100 words

AgoActum (Ago Actum Ltd) is a data and artificial-intelligence consultancy based in Cambridge, United Kingdom. It helps companies, organisations and governments leverage their own data for the AI era without giving up control of it. AgoActum deploys grounded AI — assistants, automation, insight and governance — inside a client's own environment, on-premise or in sovereign cloud, so sensitive and regulated data never leaves their tenancy. Its approach is governed by an AI management system to ISO/IEC 42001 and secured to ISO 27001, with work spanning financial services, law, government, aerospace and defence, biotechnology, healthcare and payments. AgoActum serves clients across the UK, United States and Australia.

QUOTES YOU CAN USE

“The opportunity of AI belongs to the organisations that already own the data. Our job is to unlock it — without asking them to give it away.”

— David Broderick, Founder, AgoActum

“Governance is not a brake on AI; it is what lets you deploy it. We build to ISO/IEC 42001 so our clients can prove AI is managed deliberately.”

— David Broderick, Founder, AgoActum

WHAT WE CAN COMMENT ON
